- Residential Sector
- Architect: AMO Arquitetura
- Installation by Infinita Concept
- Application: Countertops, cabinets
- Material: Glacier White PM201

The Challenge

This residential kitchen was designed to be the focal point of the home, with massive islands and countertops anchoring the open plan and providing an inviting space to prepare and eat meals. The owners wanted an expansive space for cooking and entertaining, a light, bright aesthetic, and an easy-care performance that would keep these surfaces looking clean and fresh around the clock.

The Result

AMO Arquitetura chose Durasein solid surface in Glacier White for all of the countertops, from the coffee bar and sink that wraps around one corner of the kitchen to the standalone breakfast bar in the middle. Its bright, snowy hue pairs well with the pale neutrals, woodgrains, and brushed gold accents throughout the room, and invisible seaming creates a flawless surface from end to end.

Materials

But it's not just a pretty face. Because Durasein solid surface is food-safe and resists scratches, dents, water, heat, and even microbes, it's also a perfect choice for food prep and dining. The material is also easy to clean and can even be repaired or resurfaced in place, helping to maintain its pristine looks meal after meal and year after year.
